

Report on the special lecture on the Centre State Relation in India Organised on 26.11.2021 by the department of Economics.

The program starts with the welcome address by Smt. Aparna Biswas, Associate professor of Economics. The students of the department of economics expressed their warm welcome with a bouquet of flower. Prof. Aparna Biswas, in her speech explained why the students of the department should have a clear concept about centre state relation in India. Then Professor Sukanta Sarkar delivered his speech on the Centre State relation in India. He delivered his lecture in three parts i) legislative relation ii) Administrative relation iii) Financial relation. He gave references of the constitution of other countries and made a comparative study regarding the relations of Centre and State. He specially emphasised on the financial relation between Centre and State, sources of revenue and purpose of expenditure. etc. Students enjoyed the lecture. The program ends with the vote of thanks by Smt. Aparna Biswas.

